COMMITMENT TO PUBLIC INTEREST

Northwest Justice Project (NJP) is Washington's largest publicly funded legal aid program. Each year NJP provides critical civil legal assistance and representation to thousands of low-income people in cases affecting basic human needs such as family safety and security, housing preservation, protection of income, access to health care, education and other basic needs.

Specialized Services

NJP also has several programs that provide specialized services to targeted populations, including a Farm Worker Unit, a Native American Unit, a Medical/Legal Partnership and a Veterans project plus programs that serve refugee and immigrant victims of domestic violence. Law students play a large role in NJP through summer internships as well as externships during the school year.

Race Equity Commitments

As a dynamic statewide law firm, NJP endorses and has signed onto the principles and commitments of the Race Equity and Justice Initiative \(REJI\).
